

Warning notice loft hatch Goonhillend

This prominent notice is adjacent to the loft hatch. Richard Harrison (SWW regulations team) was made aware of it when he first inspected in April 2015 and borrowed my crawling boards to inspect the rainwater distribution tank. At his 17 September 2015 inspection (the purpose of which was to inspect that the mains connection to this tank had been permanently disconnected) he had not brought his own crawling boards (despite knowing they were required), declared the roof space dangerous and refused to inspect the tank had been disconnected as crawling boards were required. He was offered the loan of mine several times but did not answer.
